A Great Sale of Fine Gold Shell Rings

Gold Shell Rings.

The Summer Girl Rings—the kind she wears without fear of being detected or lost. Guaranteed five years.

25c

Greatest Hair Sale of the Year.

$5,000 Worth for Little More Than $1,000.

The elite of New York have fled the city—and the hair market is dead. The psychological moment for the Palais Royal representative—Results—$5,000 worth of best Hair Goods to be distributed for little more than $1,000.

$1.29 for the ordinary $3.50 cluster, containing twelve (12) single puffs; all shades. $3.49

$3.48 for the standard $7.50 cluster, comprising twenty-four (24) puffs; all shades. $2.98

29c for Puffs, 4 and 6 in set. Standard at 75c and $1.00. All shades.

49c for the New Washable Hair Rolls, for which the standard trade price is $1.00; all shades.

The New Cluster Puffs, $1.39.

First Demonstrated and Sold Here.

The Palais Royal is first in Washington with this new arrangement of the hair—which can be taken down and rearranged without the least trouble.

Not yet sold outside of a few exclusive shops in New York—excepting here.

All the wanted colors—blond, light, medium, and dark browns, black.

If The Herald has followed you to seashore or mountain, the mail will bring you this hair. Please send sample of shade required.

Millinery Finally Reduced.

Millinery at very much less than the wholesale prices—an opportunity for dealers not less than milady who would acquire a new hat or trimmings for the old one.

The millinery business is here conducted on a gigantic scale—a greater trade is done with milliners than usual with the jobber, and the retail business here is conceded to be very much the greatest in Washington.

With transactions running into hundreds of thousands of dollars during a season, the loss incidental to the closing of the summer business is looked upon as profitable. It is profitable in the end.

$1.98

Were $5.00

The Untrimmed Hats of New York Fifth Avenue stores, retailed up to $10 there, have been a feature of the season here at only $5.00. The best of leghorn, hemp, and hair, and fine chip hats in aristocratic shapes, black, white, and colors. Reduced to $1.98 for choice. The Palais Royal's $7.50 trimmed hats of this summer of 1910 have been famous as being as good as the usual $10 hats. With the price reduced to $3.98. The $3.98 hats reduced to only 98c.

49c

These Knox shape Sailors are not to be sold at wholesale. One only to each purchaser—a rule made to create satisfaction among greatest numbers.

$3.98

Were $7.50

Flowers, 1c, 19c, 38c.

Were 10c to $1.00 Bunch.

Thousands of bunches of flowers and foliage—greater quantity and greater variety than the jobbers show at this season. Dealers are interested. No purchaser will be limited to quantity, but the rule of cash sales will be without exception. Note—none sent C. O. D. or on approval. A great sacrifice is being made—not to have one bunch of these flowers here the coming autumn. Thus finally reduced prices somewhat early—beginning this morning.

Three for . . . 25c

3 for Price of One.

Best of 25c laundered Linen Collars.

Every size in all the correct low, medium, and high styles.

2c, 5c, 11c, & 39c yd

Ribbons Worth from 10c to $1.50 Yard.

All pieces of less than five (5) yards are to be reckoned as remnants, offered in four (4) immense lots, at 2c to 39c yard. Take elevator to Second Floor—for the bargains of a lifetime. Look for and find ribbons for every use, many wide enough for sashes, plenty narrow enough and good enough for belting. Hair ribbons, dress and millinery ribbons, all kinds of ribbons excepting the cheap. None but all silk is ever tolerated here. Come to-day and enjoy the finally reduced prices to close the summer season of 1910.

15c Each, or 2 for 25c

Few Made to Retail at Less Than 50c Each.

The illustrations tell you of only three styles. To choose from are hundreds of Dutch collars and coat collars, some with lace medallions; daintiest of Swiss embroidery collars; tailored and lingerie stocks; bows of silk net and lace; silk and wash four-in-hand ties. Many worth 50c.

PROF. McBAIN QUILTS

Dean of Political Science School Leaves G. W. U.

ILL IN PROVIDENCE HOSPITAL

Will Become Member of Faculty of Wisconsin University After Recovering from Appendicitis Operation. Executive Committee Names H. P. Willis as Temporary Successor.

Prof. Howard Lee McBain, dean of the College of Political Science of George Washington University, has resigned. H. Parker Willis, professor of finance, will succeed him.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the university.

Ostensibly, Prof. McBain has resigned to accept a similar position with the University of Wisconsin. Friction, growing out of the university's predicament, it is believed, is at the bottom.

Prof. McBain was named assistant to Acting President Stockton when President Needham resigned, and at once set about putting matters in shape. His suggestions, however, it is said, did not meet with the full approval of the others on the executive committee.

Ill with Appendicitis.

The professor is now ill at Providence Hospital. He suffered severely from an attack of appendicitis recently, and Wednesday underwent an operation. He was reported last night in a favorable condition.

Prof. McBain has been connected with George Washington University for the past four years in the department of political science. A year ago he was made dean.

During the discussion of the university's affairs several weeks ago he injected a new hope into the difficulties by proposing a segregation of the College of Political Science under a separate charter, thus relieving some of the strain on the parent body.

Prof. Willis' appointment is to remain in force only during the coming academic year. He is unable to give a larger part of his time to the duties, and the executive committee will in the meantime look about for a permanent dean.

Dr. Willis is a New Englander. He was educated at the University of Chicago, and for nine years was Wilson professor of economics and politics at Washington and Lee. During the latter part of that period he was head of the school of commerce. His connection with George Washington University dates from 1906. He is the author of a number of monographs and books on economic topics.

The university's affairs are still in a quiescent stage. No new developments have come to relieve the cloud over the institution, though Admiral Stockton, acting president, and the others of the executive committee are still hoping for some favorable turn of things.

SHOT BRINGS DEATH

Accidental Discharge of Gun Kills B. T. Smith.

TRAGEDY AT MOUNT HOLLY, VA.

Brothers Examining Rifles Have Attention Attracted by Approach of Friends—One Is Fired and Bullet Enters Lad's Temple—Expires Without Regaining Consciousness.

Benjamin T. Smith, the sixteen-year-old son of Addison T. Smith, private secretary to Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, was fatally shot Thursday afternoon at Mount Holly, near Colonial Beach, by the accidental discharge of a rifle and died three hours later.

Young Smith and his brother Walter were standing on the pier with their rifles, examining them, when several girl friends approached. As the boys looked up to how to the girls one of the rifles was discharged and Benjamin fell to the deck.

Bullet Enters Temple.

The ball entered his right temple, tearing a ragged wound, from which the blood flowed profusely. Walter and the girls were almost hysterical over the occurrence, and for a few moments were too stunned to do anything. Medical attention was then summoned, but young Smith died without regaining consciousness.

The body was taken to Colonial Beach in a private launch and from thence brought to Washington.

Young Smith, his mother, and younger brother Walter, and Mrs. J. K. White, of Washington, had been at Mount Holly since Monday, when they left Washington for a short vacation.

Telegram Reaches Father.

Just prior to the accident the father had left here for Idaho. A message was sent, advising him of his son's death, and reached him at Newark, Ohio. He immediately returned to Washington, overcome by the sad turn to his family's vacation. Mrs. Smith was also prostrated by the accident.

Young Smith was well known and popular in Northeast Washington. He recently completed his second year at Eastern High School. He was a member of the cadet corps of the school, and a short time ago was awarded a medal for marksmanship in the corps. He was a member of Waugh Methodist Church and Sunday school, at Third and A streets northeast.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at his late home, 519 Stanton place northeast, and also at Waugh Methodist Church. The pallbearers will be chosen from among his comrades in the Sunday school.

Ocean Steamships.

New York, July 22.—Arrived out: George Washington, at Bremen; Lafayette, at Havre; President Grant, at Cherbourg.

Relief from foreign ports: Oceanic, from Naples.

BAR AMALGAMATED MEN.

Carpenters Vote to Stand Alone in Labor Fight.

As a result of the prolonged controversy that has been going on between the Carpenters' Union and the Amalgamated Society a crisis was reached last night.

At an enthusiastic meeting at the Carpenters' Union headquarters it was decided by an overwhelming vote that the Carpenters' Union will not work with the members of the Amalgamated Society.

Excitement has been at fever heat among the members of the two societies.

AUTO STRIKES BICYCLIST.

Rider Seriously Hurt in Collision Near Union Station.

While riding a bicycle near the west end of the Union Station, John Campbell, Jr., of Forest Glen, Md., was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas E. Miller yesterday afternoon.

Campbell was severely injured about the head and shoulders and was taken to a near-by drug store until an ambulance could be called. At the Casualty Hospital last night it was stated that he was resting easily.

The machine is owned by Edward Newmyer. His chauffeur was alone in the auto.

Californians Meet To-day.

The California State Association will meet to-day at 4 o'clock at the historic mansion at Marshall Hall formerly presided over by Col. McKibben, president of the California Pioneers of this city.

M. F. O'Donoghue, president of the association, will call the meeting to order, and Gen. James F. Smith, former governor of the Philippines and now judge of the Customs Court, will deliver the address of the day.

SUIT TO DISSOLVE BATHTUB COMBINE

Government Alleges Patent Laws Are Used as Screen.

The Department of Justice filed with the Circuit Court at Baltimore yesterday a bill in equity under the Sherman anti-trust law against sixteen manufacturers of sanitary enameled ware. Their annual output is $100,000,000.

The suit differs from others that have been instituted under the Sherman act in that the defendants have attempted, so it is alleged, to conceal their unlawful purposes under the guise of a licensing arrangement under a patent. The companies against which the dissolution suit is directed are:

Companies in Combine.
The Barnes Manufacturing Company, Mansfield, Ohio; the Cabell Iron Works, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Colwell Lead Company, New York; the Day Ward Company, Warren, Ohio; Humphreys Manufacturing Company, Mansfield, Ohio; Kerner Manufacturing Company, Pittsburg, Pa.; the J. L. Mott Iron Works, New York; Crum Howell Company, New York; Meloy & Walker, Bradock, Pa.; National Sanitary Manufacturing Company, Salem, Ohio; Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, Pittsburg, Pa.; United States Sanitary Manufacturing Company, Chicago; A. Weiskittel & Son Co., Baltimore; Wheeling Enamelled Iron Company, Wheeling, W. Va.

Jobbers Held Fast.

The Department of Justice charges that these manufacturers compel all jobbers to sign iron-bound contracts as a condition of obtaining their goods, and refuse to sell to any one not signing such uniform contracts. The prices on the goods have been advanced.

The combination began operations only on June 1, and controls, it is alleged, the output of bathtubs, wash bowls, lavatories, drinking fountains, sinks, &c.

DECLINE IN OUR EXPORTS.

Report for Last Fiscal Year Shows Notable Losses.

A marked decline is shown in the export reports of the department of Commerce and Labor for the fiscal year ended June 30. The report has just been completed by the Bureau of Statistics.

As usual, cotton leads all other exports, but the value of unmanufactured cotton is rated as $480,000,000, against $481,000,000 for 1907. Copper is second on the list, followed by illuminating gas, wheat, flour, corn, and so on through a long list of food stuffs.

Corn shows a marked decrease, the total value this year being $25,000,000, against $35,000,000 in 1909.

BURIED IN DEBRIS.

Workmen Narrowly Escape Death When Structure Collapses.

Buried in tons of debris, Robert Archer and Jesse Newman, negroes, narrowly escaped death when a wall of a building collapsed yesterday afternoon.

They were taken to Emergency Hospital, where it was found that they had sustained only slight injuries. It required several minutes for their companions to dig them out of the debris.

The men were removing props from a side wall, when the underpinning gave way. The second floor and walls fell, burying them.

BUFFALO HERDS GROWING.

No Danger of Extinction, Bison Society Reports.

The American Bison Society in its annual report declares that the danger of the extermination of the American bison has passed.

There are about 2,108 bison in the United States now, according to the report, and they are multiplying rapidly. The report says the tide of extermination has been stemmed and that within ten years the herds will increase tenfold.

The nucleus herd is fenced on a government reserve range in Montana. The last of the bison graze in this ground free from the danger of hunters' rifles. A six-foot wire fence keeps them on the range.

HAVE NO SITE FOR SCHOOL.

Commissioners Defer Action on Matter Until Fall.

No selection of a site for the proposed Normal School, No. 2, will be made at the present time, according to a decision of the Commissioners rendered yesterday, after acting upon a recommendation of Acting Engineer Commissioner Markham.

It was proposed to build the structure on a lot near Howard University. So many protests were made against the location that further action has been deferred until fall.

Bible College to Meet.

"Civic betterment" will be discussed at the vesper service of the Interdenominational Bible College, to be held at Shiloh Baptist Church to-morrow, at 8 p. m. Prof. Kelly Miller, Rev. J. Milton Waldron, Rev. Sterling N. Brown, and others will speak.

Husband Sues for Divorce.

Joseph W. Pollock yesterday entered proceedings against Irene Pollock for absolute divorce, alleging infidelity and gaming a co-respondent. They were married August 25, 1907, in Baltimore, Md. There are no children.

Canal Work Being Rushed.

Despite the rain which has prevailed in the Canal Zone, the amount of excavation for the month of June exceeded that of the corresponding month last year by 300,000 cubic yards.
